Tsi Nahóten Karihwanákere No'nenk News Release

Seigneurie Negotiations Today, Quebec Negotiator to Attend

For immediate release

(Kahnawà:ke – 11, Ohiarí:ha/June 2008) The Mohawk Council of Kahnawà:ke announced that there will be a Seigneurie of Sault St. Louis negotiation session today between Kahnawà:ke and the Federal negotiating team.

Recently-appointed Quebec Seigneurie Negotiator John Parisella is expected to attend to introduce himself to the teams. At this point, the negotiations remain between Kahnawà:ke and Canada, who have been negotiating the 300-year-old grievance since 2005.

“It’s taken twenty years to get everyone to the table,” said Grand Chief Michael Delisle Jr., referring to the 1988 launch of the ‘modern’ movement to resolve the grievance. “While we have made progress over the past few weeks, we’d like to remind the community that we have a long way to go. We must stay focused – and we must remain positive.”
