She would also like to announce the launch of the kanawakilease.com website.

Phase One of Consultations (October-December) involves education and began with a documentary, discussion panel and the launch of an email and phone number to discuss the project. As well, Kanawaki Landholders have been mailed an information package yesterday (November 2). Community members will be able to obtain a similar information package at this Special Meeting.

Community members are encouraged to visit kanawakilease.com to become familiar with the background on the Lease during Phase One, in order to make informed decisions during Phase Two of consultations; which includes renegotiating rental amounts and direction on what to do with the land after the Lease is over.
