New Decision Making Process update

For immediate release

(Kahnawá:ke – 15, Kentenhkó:wa/November 2007) The Mohawk Council of Kahnawá:ke has announced that organizers of next week's "mock session" of the new Community Decision Making Process will be present at the Services Complex lobby tomorrow (Friday) morning to answer questions on the process and to encourage participation.

They will be located across from the Post Office from 9am to noon.

The organizers are hoping to have Kahnawa'kehró:non from all walks of life participate in the Community Decision Making Process exercise, which will take place on Wednesday, 21 Kentenhkó:wa/November, from 9am to 3pm at the Community Room at the Peacekeepers station.

The new Process is a major undertaking, designed to replace the current way major decisions are made within the Community, and will be utilized to create new laws.

People interested in attending are being asked to contact the Caroline McComber at 450-632-7500 for planning purposes, as lunch is being served at the Wednesday session.
