PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENT

Spring Storm Warning

(Kahnawà:ke –11, Onerahtókha/April 2013) The Community Protection Unit of the Mohawk Council of Kahnawà:ke wishes to advise motorists to be cautious, especially those who have removed their snow tires, as a snow fall warning is in effect for our region. From 15 to 25 centimetres of snow and ice pellets are expected, beginning this evening and into tomorrow..

Plan your travel and check road conditions and weather forecasts before driving. For tips on safe winter driving please visit www.adventuresmart.ca.

A low pressure system located over the American Midwest will reach the Great Lakes basin tonight. At the approach of this spring storm, snow will develop over Southern Quebec beginning tonight and continue through Friday. Over areas near the Ontario and U.S. borders, the snow will be mixed with ice pellets.
